UTAH WINS BY CLOSE MARGIN

Aggies Give U. Boys Close Run—Score Is 39 to 35 for Utah.

NO SCIENTIFIC PLAYING

Aggies Deserve Much Credit Lost Sight of Game at Whistle.

Utah 39, Utah Aggies 35.

Salt Lake, Feb. 15.—Utah won, but the highest honors are due the Crimsons' rivals of ancient standing, the Aggies. The score was 39 to 35 and the game was every whit as close and interesting as the score would indicate, although it was in nowise so well played.

From the standpoint of scientific playing, at least such as that furnished by teams most successful in Utah, the state which is most successful of all in making basketball of interest, the two collegiate aggregations fell below par. Two representative high school teams could have played on the Deseret gymnasium floor last night with better success. There was an abundance of poor passing, inferior teamwork and fumbling the ball. The basket shooting of all but two or three men was also below grade, but at that the contest was highly interesting, due in no small measure to the element of chance which entered. The result of the game was a gamble all the way.

Utah Comes Back.

As in its game against the Brigham Young university, the Crimsons showed latent ability in flashes and spurts, which took it from behind in the second half and gave it its scant lead, which it maintained to the final whistle. Coach Nelson H. Norgren, sorely disappointed and much aggrieved at the painful exhibition, as he viewed it, took his men aside at the intermission and exhorted them with the one idea of teamwork and noodle utilization. The boys came back and showed what a little of that stuff would do.

The Aggies deserve much credit. A team admittedly weak in point of experience and veterans, the U. A. C. contingent came down here with its usual fight and ran the variety off its feet at stages of the game. The boys were much lighter than Utah's, and although Whitner, at center, had to be relegated to the sidelines at an early point, the farmers kept on working all the time and lost sight of the game only at the whistle.

JESS WILLARD DOWN IN BED

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Whether the bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran, scheduled for New York, March 8, will be staged at that time will be decided today. If the cold, which has settled in the champion's throat, responds to treatment, the bout may go forward as scheduled. Otherwise it will be postponed.

Friends of Willard today express the opinion that the bout will have to be called off. The champion spent yesterday in bed and it was stated that it was doubtful whether the big Kansan's throat could be restored to normal soon enough to allow a sufficient period of training for the Moran fight.

New York, Feb. 15.—Tex Rickard, the promoter of the Moran-Willard fight scheduled for March 8 in this city said today that no application had been made to him for a postponement of the Willard-Moran fight.
 "Tom Jones came to me last night," said Rickard, "and said that he had learned from Willard over the long distance telephone that the champion was ill with la grippe in Chicago. I understand he has been unable to train for ten days."
 "Tom Jones will leave for Chicago tonight to ascertain just how serious Willard's illness is and report on the prospects of a postponement."

BIG FIGHT IS POSTPONED

Willard Sick, So Fight With Moran Is Called Off—Will Be Disappointing.

(By Ed Curley.)

New York, Feb. 15.—Jess Willard, the heavyweight champion, tonight called off his fight with Frank Moran, which was to have taken place in Madison Square Garden on March 8. The titleholder is too ill to continue training, and rather than take any chances he cancelled the bout.

This announcement came over long-distance telephone from Chicago. Tom Jones called up Willard and inquired when he was coming here to train. The latter told his manager that everything was off.

"It will be impossible for me to get in proper condition, Tom," said Willard, "so there's nothing left to do but to call off the bout."
 "Will you be able to get in condition for a bout later in the month?" inquired Jones.

"That's hard to say. If my health permits there will be nothing that can stop me from keeping the engagement," answered Willard.

Tom Jones immediately started to seek Tex Rickard, promoter of the match, to acquaint him with the news. Up to a late hour Jones had failed to get in communication with Rickard.

It is known that Willard is eager to fight Moran, as it means a big purse—$47,500—with slight chance of losing the title. Again, it would help immensely to boost him with the circus with which he has signed a contract to go on tour with a fresh victory added to his laurels.

When Ike Dorgan, manager of Moran, was reached upon the long-distance telephone tonight and informed of the news, he could hardly get up.

"I had an idea Willard was sick," said Dorgan, "and really was afraid something would happen to put a damper upon the match. Both Moran and I are very sorry to hear about Willard's illness and hope he will recover soon. Under the conditions, we are agreeable to a postponement if that is possible."

The cancellation of the bout will be a body blow to Rickard and McCracken. It was only this afternoon that they announced the price of admission, and according to the seating arrangements would have taken in $140,000 at the gate. With the purse, state tax and other expenses deducted, the profit would have been about $30,000, if the house was sold out.

SCHEDULE FOR WESTERN LEAGUE

Club Presidents Decide on 154 Games for Season—Will Report Tomorrow.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 14.—Club presidents of the Western baseball league at their meeting tonight definitely decided on a season's schedule of 154 games, and turned over the drafting of the schedule in detail to a committee composed of E. J. Hanlon of Sioux City, John Holland of St. Joseph and John Savage of Topeka. The committee began its work tonight and hopes to be able to report tomorrow.

Most of this afternoon's session was taken up with a discussion of the telegraph ticker service at the different club grounds. The contract with the Western Union Telegraph company was canceled last fall, and it has not been definitely decided whether it is advisable to enter into new arrangements. No decision was reached today and the matter will be discussed further.

Frank C. Zehrung of Lincoln, the new league president, who presided at today's sessions, said he had not yet received the league records from his predecessor, Norris L. O'Neill. Frank L. Bell of the Des Moines club said there would be no trouble in securing the records, and that O'Neill was ready to turn them over at an early date.

A deal between the Denver and Des Moines clubs, whereby Larry Spahr, the veteran Denver catcher, becomes the property of Des Moines, was announced tonight. The purchase price was not stated.

Most of the club owners said their teams were practically made up and they anticipated a successful season. The league formally ratified the transfer of the Lincoln franchise from Hugh L. Jones to the Lincoln baseball association.
